

Screenwriting

the key to creative writing

If you are looking for new inspiration and tools for creative script writing, this is your opportunity. This Master's Degree Programme in Screenwriting focuses on developing and processing innovative film scripts, and you will be supported in working alongside your studies through the use of an online study environment and distance learning practices.

Master's Degree in Screenwriting

Qualification: Master of Culture and Arts

Extent and duration: 60 ECTS, 1–1.5 years

Tampere University of Applied

Sciences (TAMK) is one of the largest and most popular higher education institutions in Finland. The degree programmes offered are focused on hands-on practice and rewarding learning experiences. At TAMK you will also benefit from the opportunity to study in a diverse and multidisciplinary environment.

The world of work needs professionals who are internationally networked and have acquired practical tools and understanding of relevant theories. At TAMK you will have an opportunity to create your own career path and update your skillset.

From the beginning of 2019, Tampere University of Applied Sciences and Tampere University will form a new multidisciplinary community in higher education with competitive edges in technology, health and society.

This Master's degree addresses issues of language, genre, economic viability and artistic merit. As your studies progress, you will learn how to edit your own text and develop your idea into a film script or a concept for a TV series. Links to the global film and TV industry will provide opportunities to network with key players in the industry and benefit from feedback on your work.

Besides writing for the film or television industry, this programme could also lead to a career in other satellite professions such as that of producer, script editor, storyliner, or script consultant.

A Master's degree certificate issued by TAMK is generally valid for applying for doctoral studies at other universities, however please refer to the admission policy of the institution in question for further information.

Study with us

More information is available at www.tuni.fi/en