Hackathons: generate innovations with a large number of students

Guest lectures: invited speakers share their expertise with our students

Special assignments/project work: commission a student project to gain new ideas and insights

Commissioned bachelor’s thesis: our students complete, for example, a literature review or a preliminary study to address a narrowly defined company challenge

Commissioned master’s thesis: our talented students resolve practical company challenges (duration 6-8 months)

Collaboration with student guilds: student recruitment, thematic events for students

Alumni events and seminars

Thematic events and seminars exploring current and interesting topics relating to information and knowledge management

Extensive long-term research projects: focus on developing organisations and their operations

Individual and medium-sized research projects: solutions and methods to support informed decision-making

Extensive long-term research projects: research on information and knowledge management to meet society’s challenges